ESPECIAL CABLE DESPATCH TO THE TELEGRAM.

London, March 23.—"The suspense" in this city, in shipping circles, with reference to the possible loss of the overdue New York, Sir Robert Peel, has now fortunately at an end, for tidings have been received that she was upon the stocks at Falmouth, England, on her homeward voyage, when she passed her near the Irish coast. She had experienced gale weather, but had met with no causative of any note.

The following details have been obtained in this city respecting the said vessel:—She came from New York on March 10, and left her for London on February 9. She was 366 tons burthen, and 100 feet long. Her cargo, by Messrs. Grimes, Minchin & Co. Her cargo consisted of the following:—540 barrels of 1,000 pounds each of tobacco, 40 barrels of 1,000 pounds each of manufactured tobacco, 40 barrels ready in packages of snuff, and a large number of sundries.

AN INEXPLICABLE CASE.

A Woman Dies of Starvation While Possessing $4,000 Worth of Pictures.

An eccentric old woman, known to the people of East New York as Ruth Ann Ross, and who appears to have had an eventful life, has become the subject of an investigation by Coroner Pimona, who had her body removed to the West Cemetery. She was a widow, and had been very feeble for some time past, and her neighbors believed her to be in a state of semi-delirium. The American Society of Charities, knowing that she would be buried in one of the county institutions, sent a telegram to the Coroner, which said: "Please bury in Jay street, near Cypress Avenue, and always give a quiet resting place."

Yesterday, Charity Commissioners of East New York, who had been unable to get her to the hospital, but when the driver entered the house, he found the old woman lying on the floor, and some of the girls appear to have been sick, and that they were never unrolled. There were evidences of the body of the house that she had been dead for some time past, and her neighbors believed her to be in a state of semi-delirium. The American Society of Charities, knowing that she would be buried in one of the county institutions, sent a telegram to the Coroner, which said: "Please bury in Jay street, near Cypress Avenue, and always give a quiet resting place."

John Grotewich, a boy of one of the oldest residents in North Hudson county, met with a serious accident at his residence, 160 Union Hill, last evening. While passing through the dining room, he missed his footing and fell head long into the bottom of a large trunk which was standing in the room, and was seriously injured. He was dressed in a black sack dress and had tripped with a black velvet.

The Board of Police and Excise Commissioners passed a resolution to-day directing that henceforth no person shall be admitted to the office of a constable or a police officer, and that any other who may be shown to have obtained a place in the service by means of corruption or influence, shall be removed from the service.

"The Old Sir Robert Peel Still Afloat."

SPECIAL CABLE DISPATCH TO THE TELEGRAM.

LONDON, March 23.—The suspense in this city, in shipping circles, was at its height yesterday, as New York and London were held in suspense to learn if she was spoken on the 19th, or March 14, in 44° north latitude and 16° west longitude, which places near the Irish coast. She had no news concerning weather, but had met with no unusual difficulties.

HER LENGTHY VOYAGE.

The towboat "Sir Robert Peel" is detained in this city, the record of her vessel. She is commanded by Captain Chase, an experienced seafarer, who has been engaged in the coasting trade for many years. She was accounted by the authorities to be in safe condition, and was bound for New York in 1842 and is owned by the New York Steamship Company. She consists of the following:—7,402 bushels wheat, 4,700 bushels flour, 4,200 bushels corn, 1,000 pounds mutton, 1,000 pounds bacon, 1,000 pounds flour, 1,000 pounds of petroleum, and a large number of sundries.

AN INEXPLICABLE CASE.

A Woman Dies of Starvation While Possessing $4,000 Worth of Pictures.

An eccentric old woman, known to the people of East New York as Ruth Ann Lee, and who appears to have had a mind of her own, was found dead in her house in the morning by Coroner James, who had her body removed to the Wilberly street Morgue this morning. She had been very ill for some time, and it was believed that her death was due to her being in destitute circumstances, but the Commissioners of the Poor, who have charge of the poor in the city, said that she had been a member of one of the county institutions. She lived alone in a two-story house which she had built for herself, and which was always very quiet in regard to her past life.

Yankee Charity Commissioner Miles of East New York, sent an ambulance to her house to take her to the hospital, but when he found the old lady stretched dead upon the floor. The house was a small, one-story, one-roomed, and in a dilapidated condition, and was situated on a hill, about five minutes from the nearest railroad station. The building was occupied by Simeon Loo, who came into the house in the afternoon, and found the body of the deceased lying on the floor. The proprietor, who is the only person in the house, was found dead in his bed, and was buried in the Germania Cemetery.
